

Dublin Community go walking on St. Patrick's Day

Further to our lively and enjoyable Dublin Day on the 23rd Feb, we just want to follow through on one suggestion that came out during the afternoon- to go on a walk together so some of us are going along to Marley park at 11am. on St Patricks day, We heard about this walk through Rosaleen Glennon and it gives the option of two types of walks -one for the more serious walker and another at a more relaxed pace. There is no registration fee just voluntary donations to a worthy charity.

All are welcome to join in with family and friends on either walks see attached for more details.

There is the option of going for a cuppa afterwards.

Charlotte O'Neill mobile 087-2471702 and Fr Colin Rothery 085-2851033 will be there as reference points. So if you are keen to join the main groups, feel free to text either of them beforehand and they will look out for you! Just remember the walk leaves at 11am!!

The website address below gives you the locations of the car park if you need it; car park map

Best wishes,
