Honoring Peacebuilding and Interfaith Dialogue

The Focolare Movement selects Dr. Tarunjit Singh Butalia to be the recipient of the 2016 Luminosa Award for Unity, paying tribute to Dr. Butalia's decades of work in interreligious dialogue and peacemaking, as well as for his scientific contributions to environmental sustainability.

A scientist based at The Ohio State University, Dr. Butalia has served admirably by leading groundbreaking interfaith initiatives with the Sikh community worldwide and on the boards of the Parliament of the World's Religions, Religions for Peace - USA, North American Interfaith Network and the Sikh Council for Interfaith Relations, among additional local and regional endeavors in his home state of Central Ohio.
