At first glance the family of Anna Maria and Danilo Zanzucchi is like many other families. It has, however, played a special role in what has come forth for families from Chiara Lubich’s charism of unity. The Focolare founder discovered in this couple and in their children a kind of “experimental laboratory” in which one could see her intuitions at work within the simplicity and concreteness of everyday family life. - from the introduction

I Know You
A Life with Chiara Lubich
Anna Maria and Danilo Zanzucchi